A FAIR CROWD TURNS OUT TO SEE THE JUMPERS

The Programme Not Attractive - Duke of Absences Heaves Over The Poer-Carneras Patts to Win-Marcs for Pugitive, San Jonquin, Lufnyette, and Melmar - Mendow Lark Waths Over -Simme to Remain With Mr. Dwyer.

Aithough the card for Morris Park was a poor one, a crowd of perhaps 2,000 persons-went to the palatial course. It was the second day of the autumn meeting of the National eplechase Association, and there were no stakes on the programme. The weather was magnificent and the sport fair.

The Boston delegation was out in full force for Fugitive for the opening hurdle race at one and a half miles. Fugitive will be remembered as the English Lass gelding which was so pronounced a tip one day at Jerome Park last year. He came over the brow of the hill many lengths in the lead on that occasion, but stopped to a walk and was beaten home. Hurdle racing seems to suit the big, loose-jointed son of Faus-tus, for after waiting on Primus for more than a mile he drew away with Daly. The pair of geldings cleared the last two hurdles on even terms. Once on the run-in Fugitive's turn of speed told, and he won somewhat easily by two and a half lengths. Poteen beat Day break after a sharp struggle for third money,

The hurdle at one mile and a half, that was second on the programme, had some of the best timber-toppers in the country engaged. Caraccas, purchased by Mr. Chamblet from E. J. Baldwin for $3,000, Nas favorite, but Woodford, Olindo, My Luck, and others had support. Winship made the running, closely attended by Olindo, San Joaquin, and Woodford. St. Anthony blundered at the first ob-stacle and dropped out of it. Mr. Persse gradually worked his way to she front, and, going over the hill, drew out with Olindo. At the second last jump there wasn't much to choose between Caraccas, San-Joaquin, My Luck, and Woodford, and all of the horses were being ridden nard. Caraccas was first over, but as he landed he swerred to the right and My Luck came a cropper, Allmark, his rider, being stunned for the moment. Unfortunate Woodford also came to grief, and the finish was between San Joaquin and Caraccas. The light weight told in the last furlong, and San Joatween San Joaquin and Caraccas. The light weight told in the last furiong, and San Joaquin won, with "Caraccas a close second and Olindo third."

Mr. Persse made short work of the two-mile steeplechase by ispread-eagling his field with Duke of Abercorn shortly after the first six furiongs had been covered. The Peer and Eldorado were always second or third, but neither appeared to have the speed of the Boston gelding, and Inuke of Abercorn won by 50 yards, pulling up. The Peer finished strong, and Brazil was criticised for letting the Duke get so far away from him in the run over the top of the hill. Still, 159 pounds sat pretty heavily on Mr. Hitchcock's little gelifting, and Duke of Abercorn had given him quite a race on Wednesday last when the weights were less in his favor then they were yesterday. After selling Caraccas E. J. Baldwin squirmed and quibbled, trying to get out of the deal, but he finally accepted the check profisred in payment.

There were but two starters for the steeple-chase at three miles, the fair performer Lafayetts and the old horse Larry. Larry blundered along well enough until he got fired, and they he simply stumbled over the last two obstacles. He is not worth the $100 he earned by being second.

Belmar and Bathampton were the only starters for the mile and a quarter race on the flat. It was a very even thing in the betting, the pair being quoted at 9 to 10 and take your pick. Bathampton made the running under a pull until the first quoted at 9 to 10 and take your pick. Bathampton made the running under a pull until the stretch was reached. It wasn't the way to beat Belmar, for when Simms called on the gray colt he moved up and quickly had Marcus Daiy's imported colt in trouble. Tarai piled the weby pyingorously, but Belmar heid his adversary safe all the way home, and won by neck and shoulders. It was his third consecutive victory.

Jockey Willie Simms has concluded to remain in the employ of l'hilip J. Dwyer, and will sign a contract to ride for the Rrocklyn turfman during 1896. S

Mass.
DEAR Sin: Before beginning work on our baseball games, namely, during your commencement week in Cambridge and during ours in New Haven, will be convenient for you this year. Of course, the final ar-rangements as to these games and also in regard to a third game in case of a tie need not be made till later. I simply want to know for my convenience whether or not the Harvard Cornell agreement will in any way interfere with our baseball game. Hoping that there will be no trouble in completing arrangements, and awaiting an early reply; I refinin.

wiped up on the field clever thieves were going through their clothes at the Ballantine Gymnasium. The lockers which had been used by the strangers were broken into by unknown persons, and watches, diamond pine, fraternity emblems, and cash were gathered in by the losters.

They made a very fine haul, for the college men came well laden with Jewelry and cash seven gold watches and chains were taken, and about ten pocketbooks containing from $50 to $80. Only three men escaped the robbers, and these were left alone probably because the thieves had all they could carry. Detectives were put on the case, and the college authorities took immediate steps to locate the thieves.

PRINCETON, Oct. 23.-Captains Lea and Brewer have at last come to a definite agreement with reference to the rules to govern the Prince-Millbank gave out this official statement:

Harvard Football Men Seek Change.

LAWRENCEVILLE, N. J., Oct. 23.-F. W. Moore, the Harvard graduate, representing the football management, spent Tuesday morning at Lawrenceville trying to secure accommodation for reneeville trying to secure accommodation for twenty-five members of the Harvard football squad. It is his intention to seek a quiet retreat for the Harvard team for several days before the game with Frinceton. Mr. Moore had in mind using the schoolboys' football field for the necessary light practice and the cage for the practice of signals and tricks. Mr. Moore thought Lawrenceville would be an ideal place for the Harvard team to secure the proper rest and quiet, but was unable to get all the accom-modation necessary.

Football in Central Park

'Meadows ' in Central Park yesterday after noon was invaded by a lot of long-haired youths auxious to play football. The Seventy second street grounds were not thrown open yesterday, and this caused a good deal of disappointment among the am-bitious youngsters who were anxious to kick the pig-skin. As a last resort they transferred their scene of strife to the "Mendows," and some stirring games were witnessed. The best game of the day was between the Mordaunts and the Diamond Juniors. The latter team hails from the lower part of the city and has not much time to practice, owing to lack of available grounds. Notwithstanding tifts they gave their opponents a bitter. Bight and came very near taking them into camp. They would certainly have done so had if not been for a rather provoking miss on the part of Stevens of the Diamond Juniors in the final half. This lad made an attempt to kick a goal, but the spiere went wide of its mark. The final score was: Mordaunts, 14: Diamond Juniors, 10.

A number of feams were out practising. Among them were the first and second teams of the City College of New York, the Cutter School, and the Leontines. There was considerable dissention and grumbling among the lads over the new edict which prevents playing in the Park in the future. Many of the lads do not like the idea of travelling to Van Cortlandt Park. They say that besides expense a good deal of time is incurred in getting there, and as they do not leave school until past Sociolek in the afternoon it will be nearly dusk before they reach van Cortlandt Park. Consequently it will be tee dark to play when they finally get there.

This time it was the junior eleven that Capt. Brewer trought over 10 Soldiers Field to try his plays on. The class team had just won a game from Boston Latin School by the score of 3 to 0. But they started in to play with twice the snap of and apparently much fresher thas the 'varsity, Fairchild accord for the 'varsity in the first two minutes' play, and then '97 forced the ball into the 'varsity berritory and kept it there during the remainder of the playing. They fooled the 'varsity twice on the old criss-cross trick between tackies and quarter back, each time netting over twenty yards gain. Then they bucked the 'varsity's centre, and forced the ball down to the flex and got the ball on downs. CORBETT NOT YET CLEAR.

ARKANSAS SUPREME COURT OR-DERS THE CHAMPION'S ARREST.

Chancellor Leatherman's Favorable Ruling Becistvely Quanted Prospect of a Fight More Remote Than Ever-A Chiengo Man Provokes Manager Brady-The Latter Repeats His Proposition of Tuesday and Says It Is Absolutely Final.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 23.-The Supreme Court has quashed the proceedings in the Cor-bett habeas corpus and decided that Chancellor Leatherman of Hot Springs overstepped his jurisdiction in hearing the proceedings in the Corbett case, and that it should have gone before a Justice of the Peace, to be tried and appealed from there. The Court also declared the law of 1891 against prize fighting in this State to be valid and operative. This makes prize fighting a misdemeanor, punishable with a fine of from $1,000 to $3,500. Corbett will be rearrented and forced to give a peace bond.

The Governor says he will await the next move of the prize fighters and their contingent before making any further preparations. Hor Spaines, Ark., Oct. 23. Fake follows fake in the fight controversy in such rapid succession that there is scarcely time for breathing spells between developments. As told in the United Press despatches of last night and early this morning, John Dalton of Chicago, who has been masquerading at the Arlington for the past ten days as Julian Davenport, drove out to Corbett's headquarters at 10 o'clock, accompanied by Martin Julian, Fitzsimmone's manager, and, claiming to represent the Hot Springs Club, sub-mitted to Brady a proposition to fight on Nov. 1 for a purse of $10,000 and a side stake of $10,-000. The party returned at 1 o'clock with the report that Brady had taken the proposition un-der advisement and would consult with the club management at 10 o'clock this morning.

Brady drove to Mayor Waters's office, and was informed by that official that Dalton had not been authorized to make any proposition; that the club did not know him, and did not want to have anything in the way of dealings with him. W. L. Babcock of the club, who arrived while the conversation was in progress took the same stand as the Mayor, and so did several other members of the organization who dropped in during the next fifteen minutes. Color had been given to Dalton's representation from the fact that he had been seen in conrom the fact that he had been seen in con-versation with Mayor Waters at the Arlington Hotel for half an hour before the start was made for Spring Lake. The Mayor explained this by saying that Dalton accosted him and kept him talking for a long time, precisely as scores of other strangers have done since the scene of the fight operations was transferred to this city.

scores of other strangers have done since the scene of the fight operations was transferred to this city.

Naturally, Brady was mad through and through, and his feelings were shared by the club officials who gathgred at the Arlington and expressed their opinion of Dalton in blunt language. That individual, however, was not within hearing, having arisen at an early hour and disappeared from the hotel. Brady said that, even if the offer had been made bona fide Corbett would not have accepted it.

Our final proposition," he said, "was made yesterday. We are willing to fight within four days for the side bets, or for nothing, if these people continue to insist that Corbett is not in condition, or we will get into the ring on Nov. 11 for the purse of $41,000. Why should either man want to fight for $10,000 when by waiting for two weeks he can have a purse four times the size?"

Sosure were Dalton and Julian that the Corbett party would snap at the offer that with the assistance of a score of newspaper men and local night owls they were occupied until nearly 3 o'clock this morning in drawing up articles of surement, so that Julian could attach his signature before leaving to-day to visit Fitzsimmons at Corpus Christi, to bring him here next week. The articles provided for a boxing match to a finish with five-ounce gloves on Friday, Nov. 1, under the auspices of the Hot Springs Athletic Club, for a purse of $10,000 as ide and a side warer of $20,000, the purse to be posted on or before Oct. 20, and to be turned over to the referee twenty hours before the contest.

It was further stipulated that the articles should only hold good in case of the failure of the Florida Athletic Club to carry out its contract, expiring Oct. 31, while a final clause provided that Joseph Vendig of New York should have no financial interest in the arrangements for the match. The drawing up of the articles was characterized this morning by members of the local club as unmitigated gall and buncomb.

GOLFING IN A GALE.

Lowell Bents Flagg in the Tie for the McR. Twombly Cap at Morristows.

J. R. Lowell and W. Allston Flagg, who tied at 92 strokes for the H. McK. Twombly Cup at the Morris County Golf Club on Saturday, played off the dead heat yesterday in an 18-hole match. Lowell was the winner, his card showing 108 to Flagg's 112, the high totals being due principally to a sweeping northwest wind, which carried the drives from the direct line. Otherwise the day was perfect for golfing. The winner is a new hand and shows considerable promise. At college Lowell was a noted base-ball player, and cultivated a habit of taking two snort steps in batting. In striking from the tees Lowell often plays the same trick, taking a quick step and driving from the right foot, instead of assuming the usual position. In this case the unusual method has some merit, despite the bad style, for his drives were generally good, and, in the play for the Lackawanna hole, he sent the ball 200 yards between carry and good, and, in the play for the Lackawanna note, he sent the ball 200 yass between carry and roll.

Flagg was in poor form throughout, for he is usually a sure 100-stroke man. On the first drive his ball rolled into the hollow. He drove in poor direction for the second also, taking 6 for the hole. Playing for the meadow hole. Flagg got into the fence and lost 2 by lifting, the unlucky incident being repeated in the biay for the fifth, the "blasted hopes" hole, his card showing 60 going out. Lowell's score for the out holes was 55, a drive into the hollow, for the second, putting a 9 on the card, and poor puts giving him 8 for the meadow hole.

Coming in poor puts gave Lowell a 9 at Westward Hol and in driving for the apple tree hole his ball landed among the bushes by the fence in an unplayable position, and he lost 2 by lifting. A topped cleek shot from the road sent the ball back to the same spot, forcing him to lift again, making the score 11 for the hole. Flagg took 8 for Westward Ho! but Lowell's poor form at the apple trees had enabled him to catch up, the scores being all even at 79. Flagg drove into the railroad embankment playing for the rext hole, and, under the local rules, he had to lift into the back field, giving him an 8. Lowell's drive landed the ball in a clump of trees, but over the railroad tracks, and he did the hole in 6, which put him again in the lead by 2 strokes. Both played good golf for the remaining five holes, Lowell making them in 23 and Fflagg in 25, the latter thus losing the match by istrokes. A fifteen-foot put by Lowell, in making the fourteenth hole, was a play which drew forth the applause of the women and men who followed the match. The wind favored the players for the last five holes. Henry P. Phipps was the umpire. The summary follows:

Lowell, Phipps, and Shippen have each single victories to their credit for the McK. Twombly cup, which must be won three times to obtain final ownership. It can only be played for twice a year, on the home links.

The A. A. U. and Football.

It looks now as though the A. A. U., at its meeting on Nov. 21, will be forced to actively take control of football. In several of the large athletic clubs there has been a tendency to totally ignore the pure anateur spirit that is to be found in all branches of sport. When the game of football is considered it is different. The violation of true amateurism has now grown to such evil proportions that something must be done by the A. A. U., or some association formed that will define an amateur football player. Of course, any football players that have been paid for coaching or paid a salary for playing on a team would at once be rejected if they tried to enter in A. A. U. games. There is no reason why these men should be allowed to maveur and a same terms when they are really professionals.

The Elmira A. C. has taken the bull by the horns and on Nov. 21, will be forced to actively take control of alonais.

The Elmira A. C. has taken the bull by the horns and has applied to Secretary Sullivan for sanction for all games blayed by them. and they have agreed to abide by the A. A. U. rules and conduct the games accordingly; and another instance is that of a well-known college player in the West who has forwarded to the Secretary of the A. A. U. a request that this status as a masteur be decided, owing to the fact that he has coached football teams for expenses. This question will be brought up at the next meeting, and, no doubt, some pretty gift-edge amsteur teams in this section of the country may learn something that will interest them.

Presentation to N. Y. A.C. Officials. About a hundred members of the New York A. C. gathered in the dining room of the club house last gathered in the dining room of the club house last night to pay a well-deserved compliment to Capt. Hugh H. Baxter and B. C. Williams, Chairman of the Athletic Committee. Both had been particularly jealous in connection with the recent international games, and their fellow members decided to give each a souvenir of the occasion. Accordingly Capt. Baxter was presented with a silver loving cup, and Chairman Williams was made happy with a handsome gold split-second watch.

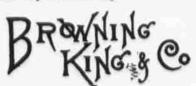

Beath of Charles Slosson. Charles Slosson, elder brother to the ex-champion billiardist, died on Tuesday night. As a player he ranked as a first-class amateur, and was always in close touch with the game, having keps rooms in various places out West and also in Now York. He leaves a family of three sons and a dauguter.
